

Dear Selection Committee,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Thiru Vageesan for the NUS Overseas Colleges (NOC) program. I have known Thiru for the past semester as a Software Intern with us at LiftAuth.

In the short time I have known him, Thiru has demonstrated an exceptional ability to grasp new concepts quickly and independently. One of his tasks was to build a simulation that is crucial for the company to quickly test product changes on. The technical understanding required to build it was wide, including a range of hardware, firmware, and cloud technologies. While new to the area, Thiru has been able to move up to speed and completed it in a timely manner.

Thiru consistently displayed initiative in the way he approached his work. Rather than seeking clarification immediately, he always made an effort to independently tackle the problems at hand. His questions were thoughtful and came only after he had thoroughly explored potential solutions on his own. This approach not only demonstrated his resourcefulness but also showed his ability to learn quickly from both successes and mistakes, allowing him to adapt rapidly to changing requirements and expectations.

These traits make Thiru an ideal member of any startup environment. His proactive nature, ability to work independently, and adaptability to new challenges are qualities that align perfectly with the fast-paced and dynamic needs of a startup. I am confident that Thiru will thrive in the NOC program, and I wholeheartedly endorse his application. I look forward to seeing the exciting accomplishments that he will achieve in the future.

Should you require further information or clarification, please do not hesitate to contact me at guoyang@liftauth.com. Thank you for considering Thiru's application.

Sincerely,

Tan Guo Yang,

CEO
